Tips For Summer Parties

Summer is the season when it's "in" to do your party-giving "out." Today, whatever the occasion, modern ingenuity has devised conveniences that pave the way to fuss-free outdoor entertaining.

The home freezer, for instance, lets you tailor steaks or hamburgers to portion-size far ahead of backyard barbecue time to avoid last-minute scullery work and serving-line stack-ups. Another way to keep the line moving is by using the 12-cup Norelco coffee maker and its companion Plus 12 serving unit that holds another dozen cups at perfect serving temperature. That generous capacity guarantees a steady flow of hot, full-flavored coffee to your lawn-party or dining-terrace guests.

But then, some like it cold, so try this: For an iced brew, freeze a few trays of coffee cubes in advance. Then when the hot coffee is poured over the ice, the melting cubes won't dilute the drink. It's another way to make outdoor living easy in summertime.

The GOSPEL NEWS

GOSPEL COUNTER-POINT By Sister Anna Lundy Lewis

Newark - Elizabeth - Jersey City - Paterson - Trenton - Orange - E. Orange - Atlantic

Pictured is the Rev. J. C. Crawford, pastor of the Beulah Baptist Church, with his wife. Rev. Crawford, who was born in Blakely, Georgia, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Crawford. Since he was a young lad he has always been active in church related organizations.

Rev. Crawford served 4½ years in the U.S. Army and 3½ of those years were in European countries. Upon leaving the service, Rev. Crawford moved to Newark where he became affiliated with the Zion Hill Baptist Church. Soon thereafter he was called upon to pastor the Beulah Baptist Church. Having received his early christian training and education in Savannah, Georgia, he continued his education while in the Army. After coming to Newark, he attended the Morris Avenue Vocational High School and the Newark Bible College where he received his Bachelor of Theology Degree in 1973. Always active in community affairs, Rev. Crawford was elected in the Model Cities Program and served as Councilman for a period of two years.

Rev. Crawford is currently observing his Twenty-Third Anniversary. Announcements of this celebration are now being made over WNJR and WBNX, over which station a weekly series of 15 minute broadcasts are presently being scheduled.

GOSPEL FLASH

According to the three Gospel Joes at WBNX, Albertina Walker's newest album, 'God Is Love' on the Polidor Label, is one of the greatest gospel records ever to hit the charts.
